

SOUTH CAROLINA STATE BOARD FOR TECHNICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE EDUCATION

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR/SYSTEM PRESIDENT

The South Carolina State Board for Technical and Comprehensive Education (SBTCE), the governing board for the South Carolina Technical College System (SCTCS) invites application and nominations for the position of Executive Director/System President. The Executive Director of the SBTCE serves as System President of the sixteen college system.

The System President works in collaboration with the members of the State Board to provide visionary leadership and policy direction for the SCTCS that supports the economic and workforce development of the State through education, training and recruitment for business and industry and the citizens of South Carolina. The System President serves as the chief advocate for the System and is responsible for establishing internal and external partnerships with the business community, the legislature, technical/community college system presidents and area commissions, public and private four-year colleges and universities, economic and workforce development organizations and the K-12 system.

The SBTCE has two statewide programs: readySC™ and Apprenticeship Carolina™, which provide customized training and recruitment for new and expanding businesses and industries. Additionally, the SBTCE approves new degree programs offered by the public technical and community colleges and administers other programs that serve the citizens of South Carolina. The System President plays a critical role in the State's business and industry recruitment, workforce training and economic development efforts.
